

Bite-sized!

CQ's next online event is a talk by textile artist, author and quilt judge Joanna O'Neill

Saturday 16 January 2021 at 11am

Please join us for what Joanna describes as: "A talk about 'Journal Quilts' - their origin and how they have spread, and my own JQs made for Contemporary Quilt, for magazines and for charity. Some are quiltings and some embroideries, but all are definitely bite-sized!"

About Joanna: Having knitted, painted and stitched her way through early life, Joanna studied for the City & Guilds Creative Embroidery Certificates and the Diploma in Stitched Textiles after her children started school. Since graduating in 1999, she has exhibited with textile groups and mixed craft guilds, written for stitch magazines, developed her career as a speaker and qualified as a quilt judge under the QGBI training scheme.

This Zoom event is free of charge to CQ members. Do book asap but please note that acknowledgements will not be sent until w/c 4th January.

To book a place or if you have any questions about this event, email: contemp@quiltersguild.org.uk

Our capacity on Zoom is limited to 100, therefore if you book a place but find later that you can't attend, please let us know so your space can be offered to someone on the waiting list.

Additional events are being planned and will be publicised early next year.

Book Now for Bite-sized! by Joanna O'Neill

